

What is happening to our America? Sinclair Broadcasting is planning to enter the political fray by airing a biased documentary on Sen. John Kerry right before the election. They are passing this off as a news event. It is not. It is a blatant effort to influence millions of voters into voting for President Bush. This is not right. It would not be right for a broadcast company to show Fahrenheit 9/11 under the same circumstances and it is not right for Sinclair now.

I ask you to look beyond politics and stand as Patriots for our country. Our national election should not be influenced in such a biased manner. Our country is divided now and faces a fractured future forever if these types of attempts to influence our election go unchallenged. It sets America on a slippery slope for future elections that puts our country's principles at risk.

Please do not ignore your duties to your country. Do the right thing and challenge this stain to our country's media.
